Johns Creek is a small sophisticated suburban city on the outskirts of Atlanta, but don't think that it is a city to drive right through without a stop. Established in 2006 by a group of visionaries and community supporters, Johns Creek is a place that attracts visitors and residents who understand that hard work can make a difference and who strive to be the exception to the status quo.

This young city has over 300 acres of parks and recreation, including 13 miles of Chattahoochee Riverfront for kayaking, canoeing and fishing. It is also home to a nationally ranked dog park, challenging golf courses and a professional orchestra, the Johns Creek Symphony Orchestra.

Johns Creek is the 10th largest city in Georgia with nationally ranked schools.

It is the most internationally diverse city in Georgia with residents from around the world, and the diverse dining and art and recreation represent these different cultures.

Johns Creek is also home to the Johns Creek Veterans Memorial Walk, the 2nd largest privately funded veterans memorial park in the U.S. This 4+ acre area includes "The Wall That Heals", a replica of the Vietnam Memorial in Washington D.C.

Johns Creek has also become a leader in Healthcare Tourism as people travel to the Johns Creek area to take advantage of the hundreds of healthcare offices that offer state-of-the-art care.

International championships are a part of the rich sporting history of Atlanta Athletic Club. AAC has hosted three PGA Championships, the U.S. Open, U.S. Women's Open, U.S. Women's Amateur, U.S. Junior Amateur, the Junior World Cup and the Ryder Cup, as well as the 2010 Atlanta Tennis Championship and eight years of the ATT Tennis Challenge.

The sprawling Club boasts two 18-hole championship golf courses, a nine-hole par 3 course, a 42,000-square foot fitness center and spa, four indoor air-conditioned tennis courts, thirteen outdoor courts, including six clay and a stadium court.

Cricket In Johns Creek

The sport of Cricket is gaining tremendous popularity in Johns Creek and meeting the demands of our diverse population. Thanks to the work of the Johns Creek Cricket Association (JCCricket), we now have the first of its kind Cricket Batting Cages, Cricket Pitches and Electronic Cricket Scoreboard at Shakerag Park. The upcoming Cauley Creek Park is also expected to have multiple adult Cricket Fields.

JCCricket's goal of making Johns Creek a destination city for Cricket in the Southeast USA is underway. JCCricket's Youth Program has over 125 athletes from ages 4 to 15. The Georgia High School Cricket, administered by JCCricket, has eight high schools participating, including Northview and Johns Creek. Johns Creek Panthers, Women's Cricket, is also attracting many talented athletes.

LPGA In Johns Creek

June 22-27, 2021

The KPMG Women's PGA Championship has built on the history and tradition of the LPGA Championship, which began in 1955 and is the second-oldest major in women's golf. The Championship is one of the LPGA's five majors and a unique collaboration of the PGA of America, the LPGA, and KPMG. More than a decade in, the Championship continues with the shared mission to help future generations of women be more successful on and off the golf course.

The Setting

The rich history of Atlanta Athletic Club as the home club for Bobby Jones makes a great setting for the 2021 KPMG Women's PGA Championship. The Highlands Course at Atlanta Athletic Club is a stern test of Championship golf. A legacy design from the Jones family, the Highlands was first designed by Robert Trent Jones Sr. and since renovated by Rees Jones (most recently in 2016).

Walk Through Art at "The Johns Creek Tunnel"

When is the last time you walked THROUGH a piece of art? The Johns Creek Tunnel is a unique attraction that tells the story of the city it calls home. The Tunnel is unlike any other mural in the Atlanta Metro, wrapping the entire length of the pedestrian underpass that runs beneath Medlock Bridge Road/SR 141, just south of McGinnis Ferry Road.

The Johns Creek Tunnel is conveniently located walking distance to two hotels in Johns Creek and connects business and leisure visitors to nearby restaurants and shops. The east entrance of the tunnel is located near street address 11695 Medlock Bridge Road.

Parks and green space within the city of Johns Creek are two of the greatest assets and resources the city offers. Today, there are many miles of trails perfect for walking, biking, running, rolling, or taking a leisurely stroll. Visitors to our parks can catch a concert, watch a movie under the stars, join a team sport, visit the new Wall that Heals at Newtown Park Veterans Memorial, or check the city's newest park, Morton Road Park.

The City of Johns Creek currently has five developed parks: Newtown Park, Shakerag Park, Autrey Mill Nature Preserve, Ocee Park, and Morton Road Park. The City also has three new pocket park properties in the works: Bells-Boles Park and State Bridge Park, and Morton Road and two future large park properties: Cauley Creek Park and Technology Park.

Newtown Park is located at 3150 Old Alabama Road directly across from the Johns Creek Fire Station. The 46-acre park includes an open-air amphitheater, Park Place adult activity center, two playgrounds, tennis and pickleball courts, multipurpose athletic fields, two outdoor basketball courts, and three softball/ baseball fields. It is also home to the Johns Creek Veterans Memorial Walk and the new Wall that Heals. It also offers a small lake, a dog park, a 2-mile walking and jogging trail, a community garden, a community clubhouse, and 13 picnic pavilions.

Newtown Park is the site of many special events, including Pup-A-Palooza, Movies at Newtown, the Summer Concert Series, and the Independence Day Celebration. The 10,500 square-foot amphitheater is host to concerts, Free Outdoor Fitness classes and other public and private events. The facility can seat 500 under cover and 1,500 on its tiered lawn. The city hosted events are free and open to all ages.

The Veterans Memorial Walk offers a meditative tribute to those who served in uniform. The Memorial Walk has monuments for each major conflict dating from World War I to present day, including the Iran/Afghanistan as well as Women in Service, Purple Heart recipients, and POW-MIAs. In 2020, the city completed installation of the Wall that Heals monument. The Wall, a 250-foot replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington DC, honors the more than three million Americans who served in the U.S. Armed forces in Vietnam during the Vietnam War. It bears the names of the more than 58,000 men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice in Vietnam.

Oceer Park is located at 10900 Buice Road near the intersection of Kimball Bridge Road. Oceer Park boasts over 37 acres and includes two playgrounds, two hard court tennis courts, two sand volleyball courts, and two basketball courts. The park also includes a tee-ball field, eight youth softball/baseball fields, batting cages and a walking/ jogging track.

morton road park

Morton Road Park is the city's newest park and one of the smallest at less than four acres. The park features a pavilion, picnic shelter, play structures, a multi-use path, a half basketball court, and open lawn. The pocket park is located on the north side of East Morton Road, just east of its intersection with State Bridge Road.

autrey mill nature preserve & heritage center

State Bridge Road Multi-Use Trail begins at GA 141 (Medlock Bridge Road), runs along both sides of State Bridge Road and ends at Jones Bridge Road (approximately 2.8 miles). The City installed landscaped and stacked-stone seating areas/plazas along the trail as well as two multi-gabled shelters on either side of Johns Creek waterway. Johns Creek Greenway – Segment 1 starts at Old Alabama Road, runs mostly along the west side of Medlock Bridge Road and ends at Findley Road (approximately 4.3 miles).

NATURAL RECREATION AREA

Five of the 16 designated areas in the 48-mile stretch of parkland that runs along the Chattahoochee River are in or near Johns Creek: Jones Bridge Unit, Medlock Bridge Unit, Abbotts Bridge Unit, Suwanee Creek and McGinnis Ferry Unit.

The "Hooch" offers some of the best trout water in the south, with 5,000 trout per mile of the river from the south end of Buford Dam, passing along the city of Johns Creek, and ending just north of Atlanta.

The average width of the "Hooch" is 50 yards and has numerous remote stretches for trophy trout via float tubes or drift boats.

Public access is available through five park units of the Chattahoochee National Recreation Area located in or immediately adjacent to Johns Creek.

The national park is open for fishing from 30 minutes before sunrise until 30 minutes after sunset. Night fishing is not permitted in the park. Review all park fishing regulations. Fishing is allowed year-round, but late autumn and winter are a great time to hit the Hooch, when river flows are more predictable.

Five units are located in or near Johns Creek:

Jones Bridge Unit

Trails, boat launch (motor, canoe & raft), picnic tables, restrooms, wheelchair-accessible
Off Barnwell Road, 1.6 miles north of Holcomb Bridge Road

Medlock Bridge Unit

On GA 141 / Medlock Bridge Road, approximately 3.6 miles. Off Holcomb Bridge Road.

Abbotts Bridge Unit

On Abbotts Bridge Road, 7.8 miles east of Old Milton Parkway, just east of the Chattahoochee River

Suwanee Creek

Undeveloped / no services
In Gwinnett County just east of Peachtree Industrial Boulevard

McGinnis Ferry Unit

The McGinnis Ferry Park is open to the public and currently managed by Forsyth County. The site has picnic areas and a boat ramp.

RIVER ADVISORY: Lake Lanier water releases can make the Chattahoochee River dangerous

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which manages Lake Lanier, typically releases water from Buford Dam during weekday afternoons unless there are unusual downstream water demands or especially heavy rains. In those situations, unscheduled water releases can come in the morning and on weekends.

The Corps does try to give some notice before releasing water downstream from the lake. Find out about releases by calling 770-945-1466 or by listening to 1610 AM on the radio.

River users may also go to <http://water.sam.usace.army.mil/todaySched.htm> to see the daily schedule for releases (see the Buford column). Four warning sirens have been placed between Buford Dam and State Road 20. The water release will occur within minutes after the sirens stop.
